GETTING TO TREVISO

Treviso Airport is an international airport located 3km west-southwest of Treviso and approximately 31km away from the city of Venice. Treviso airtlink is the direct connection service between Canova Airport and Treviso central station (city centre). The bus has a convenient arrival / departure area in front of the airport entrance, while in Treviso the bus stop is located in front of the station entrance with an easily identifiable stop, with the historic city centre just 800m away.

The journey time is approx. 15mins and runs direct between the two locations every 30mins. From Treviso the first bus departs 06:23 and the last 22:23 while from the Airport the first bus departs 06:10 and the last 22:40. A Treviso Card 1 Day costs €5 and is valid for 24hrs from first validation.

Treviso Airbus Website

Venice Marco Polo Airport is located around 30km from Treviso but there are plenty of transport options to get to Treviso for your visit. Journey time takes around 1hr through a combination of a short bus trip and then the train. Some buses services run directly from the airport to Treviso while other options call for a short trip to Mestre (just outside Venice city) and then a change of service to Treviso.

General Information

THINGS TO SEE AND DO AROUND TREVISO

Aside from the game which takes place Saturday (KO 20:45 (local)) in the Stadio Comunale di Monigo, Treviso quite simply is not another Venice. It's actually a rather unique place which represents the perfect balance between the natural riches and culture of the Veneto regio, where countryside and green hills culminate in the splendour of wood and brick houses adorned by frescoes and has medieval feels that envelop the city which is also a magnet for industry and manufacturing in the North-East.

The joy of Treviso is that the old city centre is relatively compact and pedestrianised which means exploring on foot is a joy. We're told it's quite easy to get lost in the small streets between the Cagnan and Buranelli rivers however you'll discover a myriad of artistic wonders from art deco to friezes to vaults, shop signs and Roman mosaics!

For art lovers there are impressive works of art such as a painting of the Annunciation in the Malchiostro Chapel of the Duomo as well as the Santa Caterina museum which houses a fresco cycle by Tommaso da Modena.

For the place to see and be seen then, the high number of cafes and restaurants around the Palazzo dei Trecento, which was nearly destroyed by the Allied bombing forces in 1944, is where you should make your way to. There are lots of good restaurants around Via Inferiore where you can indulge in many of the local specialities such as local prosecco as well as tiramisu which was devised here in the 1960's.

SUPPORTERS BASES

The Celtic Pub

We're encouraging as many of you as possible to assemble at the stadium in anticipation of the team arrival – we'll advise more details closer to the time on our social media channels. For those of you in the city before match-day, Thursday or Friday perhaps, the Celtic Pub, located on Via Roma,32 will serve as a meeting place for the blue. It comes highly recommended by the Benetton Rugby Supporters Club themselves and for those who have been before, you'll know what a friendly and welcoming establishment it is.
